To Whom it May Concern:

I am writing this letter of recommendation on behalf of Alexandra Robertson. Ms. Robertson has demonstrated patience and understanding every year since my freshman year with every single one of her students. She has always been just and kind, and even gone beyond to help her students with anything that troubles them. Ms. Robertson, or as her students call her, Ms. Alex has been an incredible teacher and mentor to me and many.

I admire her work ethic and her transparency, making it easy to connect and trust her. Ms. Alex has managed to juggle her job, personal life, and student life, as she has been working on her doctorate recently, extremely well. Her time management is exemplary, and I have witnessed it throughout these four years. Beyond this though, Alexandra is very compassionate and caring. On many occasions she has offered to make time for her students, whether it be for school help, or for any kind of non-school related support.

Ms. Robertson has been a true role model, and I look up to her as she handles everything thrown at her with a level headed composure. Especially during these unprecedented times, I strongly believe Ms. Robertson has handled everything to the best of her ability given the circumstances. Even then, she has maintained a positive attitude and continued to communicate with her students with encouragement. She has been truly amazing, and someone I have come to confide in. You could even say that she's my AVID mother.

It is without hesitation that I recommend Ms. Robertson for any position or program she might consider.

Respectfully,

Joselyne Ochoa

To Whom it May Concern:

I am writing this letter of recommendation on behalf of Alexandra Robertson. I first met her my freshman year of highschool. At the time she taught AVID for incoming freshmen. AVID is a program cultivated to push high school students to college success. During my time with AVID Alexandra did just that; she pushed people to achieve success, not only because that is what AVID does but because that is what she does.

Alexandra is a woman that devotes herself to what she does. She was able to juggle her studies and AVID while not compromising either. She has always been there for me and all my classmates. If she has the means to help she will and if not I am sure she will still find a way. No matter the situation she has always been a person I can turn to for anything.

During the years that I've had the pleasure of being in her class, if one thing has stood out to me about her it is her reliability. During what are some of the most stressful times as a student like college entrance exams and scholarship applications she pushed me to do better. She pushed all of her students to get things done but she never let go of us. Whenever things get overwhelming or stressful we could always fall back on her. I will be going to a four year university with a full ride scholarship and thinking back on it I would have probably given up if it were not for her.

It is without hesitation that I recommend Alexandra Robertson for any position or program she might consider. She is a great leader, a great person, and I'm sure she is a great candidate for the job.

To Whom it May Concern:

I am writing this letter of recommendation on behalf of Alexandra Robertson. She has been an amazing mentor and role model since she first was my AVID teacher my freshman year of high school in 2016. When I started high school I did not know what I wanted for my future other than knowing I wanted to pursue a college degree. I had been in AVID since my eighth grade year so I was familiar with the structure of the class and knew what to expect. Advancement Via Individual Determination (AVID) has meant more to me than just a college preparation program, it has been a family. I have met people who I know will be life-long friends through this program. The head of this wonderful support system was always Ms. Alex.

Alexandra took it upon herself to be super involved throughout her time at Capital High. She taught English Language Arts, led the technology pathway, became the AVID Site Coordinator, worked a second job, and was also a soccer coach for a season. She has helped a number of her students through college entrance exams, the college application process, FAFSA, and committing to a four year university. She provides guidance for anyone who needs it, opening doors for her students to build their resumes and receive scholarships. A handful of her students, including myself, received full-ride scholarships and acceptance to their dream schools.

Ms. Alex has always been willing to help and give support to all with the intention to see everyone succeed. She worked tirelessly to ensure her students were doing well, being involved with extracurriculars, all while working on her doctorate degree.its creation. Now, thanks to Alexandra, all students at CHS are supported as they go through the rigorous work that AVID involves to prepare for and apply to colleges. Her tenacity and zealousness creates opportunities for others. She is truly an inspiration to us all.

It is without hesitation that I recommend Alexandra for any position or program she might consider.

To Whom it May Concern:

I am writing this letter of recommendation on behalf of Alexandra Robertson. Ms. Robertson is an inspiration to many. She is always ready to help and even cheer anyone up. In her classroom, she has always strived to be the best she could possibly be through various teaching methods and technological integration into her teaching. Ms. Robertson is highly fluent in technology and is always ready to help which makes her an incredible person to work with.

With many years of experience in teaching, Ms. Robertson is highly efficient in her job as I am sure many more would agree with. Ms. Robertson has helped Capital High School's Class of 2020 become one of the best classes in the school's history. She has helped many, myself included, improve their writing and navigate college options. She has helped the Class of 2020 break many barriers and set educational precedents like never before.

Finally, I would like to mention her high motivation and service to her community. Ms. Robertson is completing her doctorate while teaching and always being present for her students when they need her. Ms. Robertson was also a student at Capital High School and returned to teach AVID to help improve her community out of a desire to help others. She has made her presence felt as an AVID teacher for her willingness to absolutely make sure her students have all they need to succeed.

It is without hesitation that I recommend Alexandra Robertson for any position or program she might consider.
